

Attending a Macmillan Coffee Morning

When you arrive...

Say hello to the host, and let them know you also support Macmillan as a volunteer. You could ask them about their plans for the day, or why they chose to host a Coffee Morning.

Thank the hosts and guests – you could share some of our Coffee Morning Facts below with them.

Answer any questions they might have, if you can. Read our Coffee Morning FAQs here before you go, and for any questions you're not sure about, they can email coffee@macmillan.org.uk

If the host and guests are happy for you to, please take photos and share these on our Volunteer Facebook page

About Macmillan's Coffee Morning

- Coffee morning is 34 years old, with the first event hosted in 1990
- It is Macmillan's biggest fundraising event, and has raised over £337 million
- The 2024 Coffee Morning target is £17 million
- In 2024 we're aiming for an incredible 99,000 hosts

How the money raised could support those living with cancer could help run our Online Community for over 3 hours, giving people affected by cancer emotional and practical support in a safe, online environment.

£78

£200

could pay for a Macmillan Grant that helps a family affected by cancer pay for energy bills, travel to hospital or home adaptations.

£673

could pay for a Macmillan support worker for a week, helping patients, family members and carers manage the social and practical impacts of cancer.

£1240

could pay for a Macmillan nurse for a week, helping people living with cancer and their families receive essential medical, practical and emotional support.
